Details

Dunkeld was opened as part of the Burnside Presbyterian Orphan Homes in May 1913 at North Parramatta. It was initially a boys' home then became a girls' home from 1919. In 1942, Dunkeld, along with the rest of the Burnside Presbyterian Orphan Homes for Children, was evacuated during World War II, Dunkeld served as Supplies and Transport for Australian Army. It remained a cottage home until 1983. It served as a residential unit from 1986 to 2000 and in 2012 was Dunkeld Family and Youth Support, operated by UnitingCare Burnside.

Dunkeld

Description: This is a photograph of the Burnside home 'Dunkeld'. It shows a brick and stone two-storey house. The house is located on a hill, with the main entrance is on the second storey, accessible via a set of steps, and the lower storey sunken into the hill. A group of children can be seen sitting on the grass in front of the house, and others are looking out the windows of the home. This image was published in a document called 'Dunkeld', which was created by UnitingCare Burnside to provide historical information about the home. This photo is undated, the date included is an estimate.
