

Society for the Relief of Destitute Children

1852 – c. 1915

Other Names: • Destitute Children's Society

Details

---

The Society for the Relief of Destitute Children was formed in Sydney in 1852 by members of the Benevolent Society of New South Wales. It was a separate organisation and ran the Asylum for Destitute Children at Ormond House in Paddington (1852-1858) and the Randwick Asylum for Destitute Children. The Society was incorporated in 1857 under a special Act of Parliament. The Society was dissolved after 1915.

More info

---

Related Entries

Ran

- Randwick Asylum for Destitute Children \(1858 - 1915\)
- Asylum for Destitute Children \(1852 - 1858\)

Related Organisations

- Benevolent Society of New South Wales \(1813 - current\)
Members of the Benevolent Society of New South Wales formed the Society for the Relief of Destitute Children to specifically care for children.

Related Legislation

- Deserted Wives and Children Act of 1840 as amended by the Act of 1858, New South Wales \(1858 - 1901\)

Resources

- Ramsland, John, Children of the back lanes: destitute and neglected children in colonial New South Wales, 1986
- Murray, John, Children's mass grave in Sydney, Inside: Life in Children's Homes and Institutions blog, 1 November 2010

Records

---

Records

- Registers of Inmates, Randwick Asylum for Destitute Children \(June 1852 - August 1915\)
-

You can view this page online by visiting <https://www.findandconnect.gov.au/entity/society-for-the-relief-of-destitute-children/>