

Aborigines Inland Mission Bible Training College

1953 – 1973

Other Names:

- AIM Bible Training College
- Singleton Bible Training College
- Bible Training College, Singleton

Details

The Aborigines Inland Mission [AIM] Bible Training College was located at Minimbah House, Whittingham, near Singleton. It was the new name for the Native Workers' Training College, which was a Baptist ministry training school for teenage and young Aboriginal people from all over Australia. The name change marked a shift from being Baptist to being non-denominational. It closed in 1973.

Gallery

Bible Training Institute, Singleton, late 1960s

[BTI] Singleton, interior [showing two students cleaning the banister]

Description: This image shows two students cleaning inside the Aborigines Inland Mission Bible Training College. This photo is undated, the date included is an estimate.

More info

Chronology

- Native Workers' Training College (1938 - 1953)
 - Aborigines Inland Mission Bible Training College (1953 – 1973)

Related Entries

Run by

- Aborigines Inland Mission \(1905 - 1998\)

Related Events

- Interstate movement of Northern Territory children \(1930s - 1970s\)

Resources

- University of Sydney, A history of Aboriginal Sydney, 2020

Records

For more information and to access your records, follow the links below:

Records

- Bartrop family slides relating to the Aborigines Inland Mission, 1909-1930s, 1945-1950, 1971 \(1909 - 1971\)
 - Australian Indigenous Ministries Aggregated Collection of Records and Pictorial Material, 1903-2003 \(1903 - 2003\)
-

You can view this page online by visiting <https://www.findandconnect.gov.au/entity/aborigines-inland-mission-bible-training-college/>