

Department of Justice and Attorney General, State Government of Queensland

2012 – 2024

Details

The Department of Justice and Attorney General was responsible for the running of Queensland juvenile detention institutions from 2012-2017. During this time it also provided access to juvenile detention records. In 2017, the function of youth justice was moved to the Department of Child Safety, Youth and Women. The Department of Justice and Attorney General was renamed to the Department of Justice following machinery of government changes in November 2024.
